

For an agreement in the Pacific preferably including only Japan, America and Britain, but are not excluding the chance at a broader agreement.

The persistence of the British announcement—the latest came from an Australian representative—indicates more than clearly that the delegation is now trying to let Japan know that it has no hard feelings, but that it believes a broader alignment more satisfactory.

America still wants a general Pacific agreement, and the likelihood is that such an institution would be the result. Australia, New Zealand and Canada would look favorably on a broader based agreement and would be a party to a tripartite arrangement or to a general Pacific line-up.

ITALIAN GENERAL CRITICIZES U. S. PROGRAM ON ARMS

Declares in Newspaper Article That Hughes Has Committed Several Errors.

ROME, Nov. 28.—Criticism of the American limitation of armaments programme was voiced to-day by Gen. Benicenza of the Italian Army in the newspaper Il Paese, organ of former Premier Nitti, which has been critical of the Washington conference.

"Secretary of State Hughes has committed several errors," says Gen. Benicenza. "First, that of considering naval armament separately from land armament; second, in believing that naval power resides in big ships; third, in thinking that the problem of disarmament will be automatically solved when agreements among the United States, England and Japan are reached."

Hanbura Appointed as Delegate to Conference.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28 (Associated Press).—Appointment by Japan of Maunao Hanbura, Vice Foreign Minister, as a delegate to the Armament Conference was communicated to-day to the State Department.

The appointment is immediately due to the continued illness of Baron Shidehara, the Ambassador, which left the delegation with only two senior delegates, namely Admiral Kato and Prince Tokugawa. Mr. Hanbura will now sit at the official conference.

LOST OUT IN ELECTION BUT WON A BRIDE

Alderman Layden and Catherine Donlon Wed in St. Agatha's Church.

Alderman Thomas F. Layden and Catherine Donlon were married by Rev. James J. McGrath, at St. Agatha's Church, 4th street and Seventh Avenue, Brooklyn, this afternoon.

Mr. Layden was defeated for reelection in the Democratic landslide Nov. 2. He lives at No. 178 Garfield Place, Brooklyn. The bride, who lives at No. 500 53d Street, was attended by her sister, Helen R. Donlon, while the bridesmaids were Misses Anna F. Layden, the best man, many prominent men, including Senator Calder and Internal Revenue Collector Murphy, were present.

The bridegroom served on Gen. Pershing's Headquarters Staff in France.

MRS. FRANK AUDITORE SUING FOR A DIVORCE

Also Brings $100,000 Action Against Alleged Co-respondent.

Suit for absolute divorce from Frank Auditore, known as "the millionaire stewardess," of Brooklyn and Manhattan, has been filed in the Brooklyn Supreme Court and to-day Justice Rappe granted Mrs. Louise Auditore, of No. 137 Coleridge Street, weekly temporary alimony of $250.

The suit names Mrs. Elva Chas. Auditore as co-respondent. It was the husband of the latter, according to Mrs. Auditore's counsel, who gave Auditore his first job in this country.

Mrs. Auditore has filed suit for $100,000 against her husband for alleged alienation of Auditore's affections.

The divorce case will be heard by a referee. Court for the divorce said that the charges against his client would be disproved.

REWARD POSTED IN HUNT FOR MEN LOST IN BAY

Offered by Wife of One of Missing Duck Hunters.

Reward of $100 has been offered by Mrs. August Hill Jr. of No. 178 Sheridan Avenue, Brooklyn, to any one who finds any of the three duck hunters, August Hill Jr., Percall Creighton, and Walter Drews, who disappeared on Nov. 13, when they went out on Jamaica Bay in a motor boat.

The boat was later found without the men, but containing two shotguns, an apple and a glove. The guns have been identified as belonging to one of the missing men. Their presence has been taken as a strong argument that the boat did not overturn and that the marine division has been looking for the hunters, and airplanes have been searching the meadows.

RAYNOR TO REFUSE GAS BOOKS TO COMMISSION

Admits Subpoena Service, but Probably Will Decline to Testify.

William Raynor, secretary of the New York & Queens Gas Company, who three months ago refused to obey a subpoena issued by the Public Service Commission, appeared before that body this week. It was learned to-day that he will decline to testify.

Chairman Prendergast has set Thursday, December 1, as the date on which Mr. Raynor is to produce the books of the company so A. S. B. Little, the city's gas engineer, can check up figures on valuation and operating costs. It is understood Mr. Raynor will refuse to produce the books or answer questions.

Forger and Accomplice Are Sentenced.

John Trautwein, a confidential clerk in the employ of Hale, Snodcker & Co., insurance men, of No. 29 Nassau Street, until his arrest for the theft of $12,000, was sent to Elmira on his plea of guilty of forgery to-day. He had been charged with forging checks from the mail which he opened.

PRESIDENT SIGNS REVISED TAX BILL, CONGRESS ADJOURNS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The Senate this afternoon adopted the conference report on the Tax Revision Bill by a vote of 79 to 29.

The President signed the bill late to-day.

Senator Broussard, Louisiana, was the only Democrat voting for the report. Six Republicans, Senators Borah, Ladd, La Follette, Moses, Norbeck and Norris, voted against the report.

The bill repeals the excess profits and transportation taxes, does away with most of the so-called nuisance and luxury taxes, reduces individual taxes all along the line and increases the corporation income tax from 10 per cent. to 12 1/2 per cent.

The bill now goes to the President for his signature.

The House voted to-day to adjourn to-night, ending the special session of Congress. The Senate passed the resolution yesterday.

$14,000 FOR WHISKEY AND GETS ONLY WATER

New Charge Against Wentz, Held as Swindler Here.

The police of Paterson added one more charge to-day to those under which the New York City police are holding Emil Wentz of Grand Forks, N. D., who was arrested Nov. 15 for a transaction by which John McLaughlin, a former policeman and a saloonkeeper at No. 2068 Park Avenue, bought a dozen or more barrels of whiskey for several thousands of dollars, only to find that water had been delivered instead of whiskey.

The Paterson police said that Ferdinand Elia of No. 219 East Sixteenth Street paid Wentz and his associates $14,000 for twenty-six barrels of water on Oct. 27. Wentz took his customer to a garage, handed him a bit and brace and invited him to bore a hole anywhere in any one of them. Through a ruse, it is alleged, Elia syphoned off real whiskey, though the barrel contained water.

BROTHERS IMPRISONED FOR 500 AUTO THEFTS

Wife of One Also Under Indictment for Grand Larceny.

Edward Lang was sentenced to ten years in Sing Sing to-day by Judge Bayne in County Court, Brooklyn. John A. Lang, his brother, was sentenced to two years and six months to five years in the same prison. Both were charged with criminally receiving stolen automobiles. Edward lives at No. 415 Albany Avenue, Brooklyn, and John at No. 280 West 12th Street, Manhattan.

The brothers are alleged during the past ten years to have participated in the theft of about 500 automobiles. Mrs. Margaret Lang, wife of Edward, heard sentence pronounced but showed no emotion. She also is under indictment.

The arrests of the Langs and their alleged accomplices resulted from an appeal made by Mrs. Edward Sweeney to a court to force her husband to support their children. She said he was implicated in an automobile theft. Sweeney was arrested and confined. He lived at No. 228 Franklin Avenue.

SMASH WINDOW, STEAL $10,000 IN JEWELRY

Police Chase, but Lose, Four Philadelphia Bandits.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28.—Four motor bandits to-day smashed the plate glass window of the jewelry store of A. J. Schroder Company and escaped with $10,000 worth of diamond jewelry. A policeman nearby commandeered an automobile and gave chase, but the bandit car outdistanced him.

The bandits drove up to the curb, smashed the window with a heavy instrument, and firing three shots through the door to frighten those inside, drove away at breakneck speed. After the policeman in the commandeered car gave up the chase a motorcycle policeman continued it, but also failed to overtake the robbers.

BROTHERS ACCUSED IN AUTOMOBILE THEFT

One Held for Grand Jury and Other Arrested in Court.

John T. Brennan, twenty-five, a chauffeur of No. 760 East 183d Street, was held in $1,000 bail for the Grand Jury on a charge of grand larceny before Magistrate McGuire in West Side Court to-day. William F. Brennan, brother of the defendant, was arrested as he left the court and will be arraigned to-morrow in connection with the same charge.

The automobile of Morris Zagard of No. 908 Eighth Avenue was stolen from in front of No. 1780 Broadway on Sept. 3. On Nov. 13 Detective McCafferty saw the machine in front of No. 50 East 88th Street. John T. Brennan claimed the car and was arrested.

JERSEY'S PAYROLL DOUBLED SINCE 1917

Due to Increase in Number of State's Civil Service Employees.

TRENTON, Nov. 28.—The State payroll for State, county and municipal offices under civil service control has increased approximately 100 per cent. since 1917, according to the annual report of the Civil Service Commission submitted to-day to Gov. Edwards.

The budget contains $23,500,000 for current administrative expenses, $22,630,000 of which is caused by an increase of 2,100 employees since 1917. The increase, the report claims, has been brought about by war conditions. The commission adds that there must be a way found to keep not only the number of employees but the payroll totals within present bounds.

LEGS OF A WOMAN IN BUNDLE IN PARK DEEPEN MYSTERY

Wrapped in Paper of Same Date as Was Torso, Found in Long Island Pond.

Capt. Carey of the Homeless Squad at Police Headquarters said to-day he and his men were entirely satisfied that the lower halves of the legs of a woman found on a dump near a bath in Van Cortlandt Park, frequented daily by hundreds of golfers, are part of the body of the woman whose body down to the hips was found in a pond on Jackson Avenue, Long Island City, Oct. 22. The package in which the legs, on which were black hosiery thread stockings, was wrapped had not been long where it was found. Refuse is dumped there daily and each day's accumulation is quickly covered by succeeding loads.

The way in which the knee joint of one of the legs had been disarticulated clearly indicated to the detectives the work of a butcher. The other leg had been roughly hacked through. The newspaper in which the legs were wrapped had the date Oct. 20. The torso, when found, was wrapped in a paper of the same date.

As to clues to the identity of the woman, the new fragments gave no information. The stockings were of poor quality, worn through with many holes.

The conclusion that the legs belonged to the Long Island City body was based on tabulated measurements which show that in a general way the legs were of proportions such as would be in accord with the body of a woman weighing about 135 pounds and 5 feet 6 inches in height.

Arthur Johnson of No. 137 Stanley Avenue, Yonkers, was striding along the edge of Van Cortlandt Park, and had arrived on the border of a marshland through which Tibbitts Creek used to run, when he stumbled across a heavy bundle wrapped in newspaper and tied with string. He kicked it, and to his horror a foot was revealed by a break in the covering.

He called Patrolman Moore of the Kingsbridge Station and then Acting District Attorney William Quigley and Assistant Medical Examiner Sellers Kennard of Bronx were summoned. The Long Island City case suggested itself at once. There the cutting had been roughly done too. And the date of the newspaper seemed significant, for it was Oct. 22 that the body was found. Another thing that may have had some significance was that this spot was marshy, almost a pond, while the spot where the woman's body was found in Long Island City was marshy enough to be actually a pond.

MILK STRIKER JAILED FOR HITTING A DRIVER

Wife of Another Is Charged With Picketing.

Joseph Peck, No. 406 East 80th Street, a striking milk wagon driver, was to-day sentenced to the workhouse for five days by Magistrate Sims in Yorkville Court for disorderly conduct. The complaint was by Thomas Parker, No. 234 West 48th Street, a Borden driver, who said Peck had struck him.

"If I were to impose a fine," said Magistrate Sims, "the union would pay it and the defendant would suffer no loss. A workhouse sentence is therefore necessary."

Mrs. Helen Elasser, No. 714 80th Street, Brooklyn, wife of a milk striker, was arraigned in the Fifth Avenue Court in Brooklyn to-day for picketing the Borden plant at 60th Street and Fort Hamilton Parkway. She said she was "out for fresh air." Magistrate Giesman paroled her until Friday for examination.

FOCH SO LIKED CITY HE MAY VISIT IT AGAIN

Legion Commander Thanks Citizens for Reception Given Guest.

The American Legion of New York, through Commander William F. Deegan has issued a statement thanking the city and all citizens for their aid in making the reception to Marshal Foch a success during his three-day visit here.

Marshal Foch, who was in New York as the guest of the Legion, expressed himself on leaving as being so delighted with his reception, according to Commander Deegan, that he wants to visit the city again upon his return to embark for France.

Gettlieb Abroad, Ball Will Go To Pay Alimony

Julius Gettlieb, arrested under an order of Supreme Court Justice McAvoy, dated May 3 last, as he was about to board the steamship Aquitania and admitted to bail in $100,000, returned to-day by Mortimer Elliott, counsel for Gettlieb's wife, Ethel, to be in Europe. The bail money will be used to pay Mrs. Gettlieb $15 a week alimony.

Two-Cent Gasoline Man Released as $2,500 Bail

Louis E. Enright, who achieved prominence a few years ago by his announcement that he was ready to sell gasoline at two cents a gallon was released in $2,500 bail to-day by County Judge L. Smith, at Minerva Court, after pleading not guilty to the charge that he had appropriated the proceeds of a check for $2,500, payable to the gasoline corporation.

TRYING TO GET U. S. TO CALL ECONOMIC CONFERENCE SOON

Allied Debt Question Would Be Among the Matters to Be Brought Up.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Pressure upon the American Government to call an international economic conference is being continued, it was said to-day in high official circles. The administration, however, at present is disinclined to take such a step, but it is possible, it was stated, that such a meeting may be called later.

Many of the delegates to the Limitation of Armament Conference, it was asserted, have suggested the advisability of a gathering of representatives of the various nations to discuss international trade, economic and financial problems with a view to obtaining remedy through concerted action.

The Administration in this connection is inclined to the view, it was indicated, that the outcome of the prime conference should determine whether concerted action and unanimity among the nations can be obtained before other world problems are taken up by the nations.

The Allied debt to this country and its ultimate disposition would undoubtedly be brought to the front in any discussions of the exchange situation and the question of revision of German reparations.

hostilities. She even gave a demonstration, during a peek in the court room with defense Exhibit A—a cheese-cloth dust rag.

Miss Brennan painted Arbuckle as a jolly good fellow. She described him as having called her into his room after the palama party which is alleged to have resulted in Miss Rappe's death and to have asked her to "straighten up the bed."

"He tipped me $2.50 and said, 'Girlie, this is for you,'" the witness testified. "He went out and came in again with some ice in a glass. He was fooling with it with a straw, and then he said to me, 'With that map, can't you have a drink of whiskey?' I told him I did not drink."

To-day's programme included a visit to the suite in the Hotel St. Francis where Arbuckle gave his party last Labor Day. It was planned to demonstrate that certain sounds could not be heard in Arbuckle's bedroom when the door was closed, and that it was impossible to see into the bedroom from certain angles of the sitting room. This is an attack on testimony of witnesses who said they heard Miss Rappe in the bedroom cry "Oh, my God, no, no, no!" and Arbuckle reply "Shut up!" and on witnesses who described what they saw in the bedroom from their chairs in the sitting room.

Arbuckle came into court to-day with an unparalled array of legal aid, expert advisers. In addition, he was flanked by some of the biggest of the movie millionaires, who watched with close attention every step in the drama in which they consider the morality of their industry is on trial.

Immediately behind Arbuckle, Governor Morris, author, had his seat. To his right sat a fingerprint and handwriting expert. Nearby was a medical adviser. Half a dozen lawyers with clerks, secretaries and aids of various kinds jammed the space inside the courtroom rail.

Before court convened the room buzzed with conversation. It was like a scene at a movie reunion. Many friends thronged around Arbuckle, greeting him most cordially. His wife, Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, was the centre of another gaily chattering group, and the movie magnates and actors sitting around the walls were busy shaking hands, slapping backs, and gossiping about the industry.

High lights on the proceedings in Judge Louderback's court yesterday, testimony concerning finger prints on a door, declared to have been made in a struggle between Arbuckle and Miss Rappe; an assertion by a hotel maid that she heard a woman screaming in the suite, and the exclusion of evidence of a detective who had declared Miss Rappe had made a statement to him favorable to the defendant.

CALDER FOSTERS BILL TO PROBE U. S. TAXES

Would Inquire Into All Sources of Federal Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Creation of a tax investigation commission to make a sweeping inquiry into the sources of Federal revenue is provided for in a bill introduced in the Senate to-day by Senator Calder of New York.

The commission would be composed of three Senators, three Representatives and three representatives of the public to be appointed by the President.

Bands Compete for Wanamaker Trophy To-Night

The Rodman Wanamaker Trophy will be competed for this evening at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory, 168th Street and Broadway, where the Fifteenth Regiment National Guard Band and other military bands of Philadelphia. The contest will be followed by a dance. The start is at 8:30 P. M.

WOULD NOT WORK, ATTACKED HIS WIFE, SO SHE SHOT HIM

Mrs. Kinkel Kept Family Going, Got Job for Husband, but He Shirked.

Samuel Kinkel, thirty-three, an unemployed bricklayer, is in a serious condition in Richmond Memorial Hospital, Staten Island, with a bullet lodged against his brain, which was fired, the police charge, by his wife, Mary, thirty, after the man had steadily refused to help her support their four children.

The wife, who has, according to the story she told the police, supported both her husband and their young children for more than a year by taking in washing, could stand it no more when her plea that her husband accept a job that was waiting him was met with blows.

The woman, being held to await the outcome of her husband's injuries, admitted having fired the bullet.

"I have been supporting my husband and our four children for a year," she said. "I begged him to go to work. He laughed at me. I became desperate to-day when he attacked me after I told him where he could get work. I ran to the attic and got a rifle. When he attacked me again I pulled the trigger. Then I waited for the police to come."

The woman is in jail and neighbors are caring for the children over Thanksgiving.

MRS. RAGONE'S TRIAL FOR MURDER BEGINS

Her Three Pretty Children Play in Corridors While Jury Is Completed.

Despite the prejudice against sitting on a jury where a woman is on trial for murder in the first degree, the twelfth juror was obtained to-day and the trial of Mrs. Josephine Ragone, twenty-one, for the killing of Frank Lucenone in October, 1920, was begun before Judge Crain in the Court of General Sessions.

Her three pretty children played in the corridors, waiting to join their mother at recess.

As before, several of the women of prominence who have taken a deep interest in the beautiful young Italian woman were in court when Assistant District Attorney McDonald outlined the case.

The jury was told how the State expects to prove the defendant left her husband and went to live with the man she afterward killed because he would not marry her. The prosecutor told of her flight and her arrest in Baltimore, where she had gone to live with her husband.

The defense will be that Lucenone attacked her after she left him and that he was killed in the struggle.

LAURA REINSTATED BY NEW D. S. C. HEAD

Deputy Commissioner Had Been Suspended by Leo.

Deputy Street Cleaning Commissioner Michael Laura returned to his duties in Brooklyn to-day after forty days of suspension imposed by the then Commissioner John F. Leo, who has since resigned. Acting Commissioner Alfred Taylor lifted the suspension yesterday with the approval of Mayor Hylan.

Laura was suspended because of his alleged activities in behalf of a member of the Street Cleaning Department, who had been arrested on Commissioner Leo's complaint. Laura was at that time Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Kings County. He was beaten in the election by Peter Seery and his friends say the suspension was the cause.

SAY ACTRESS DROVE AUTO WHILE DRUNK

Former Winter Garden Girl Held in $500 Bail.

Mrs. Helen Neary McCloskey, 21 years old, of No. 152 West 72d Street, who said she formerly was an actress at the Winter Garden, to-day was held in $500 bail by Magistrate House in Traffic Court for Court of Special Sessions on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Mrs. McCloskey was arrested on Nov. 14 by Patrolman Samuel Weinstein of Motorcade Squad No. 1 at Riverside Drive and 82d Street. She is an extremely attractive woman, and when she appeared in court to-day wore an expensive fur coat with a close fitting black turban surmounting a wealth of dark auburn hair.

JUMPS FROM "L" STATION UNDER 3D AVE. EXPRESS

Unidentified Man Wore Clothes Made by Williams, Brooklyn Tailor

A man about fifty-five years old, gray and slightly bald, jumped to the track in front of a south-bound Third Avenue elevated express train at the north end of the 23d Street station at 10:05 o'clock to-day. Three cars had passed over him before the motorman, Joseph P. McDonald, could stop the train. Death was instantaneous. The passengers swarmed out of the cars when the train stopped and hurried to the station below, where they proceeded downtown on a local train.

The only mark of identification is the name of the tailor who made the suit worn by the suicide—Williams, of No. 2171 Clarendon Road, Brooklyn. The body was taken to the Morgue.

Soviet Russia Buys 600,000 Bushels of Wheat Here.

KIGA, Nov. 23.—A wireless message received here to-day from Moscow says the Soviet Government has concluded an agreement with the Allied Chemical and Dye Corporation, an American concern, for the purchase in America of 1,000,000 pounds of wheat (approximately 600,000 bushels) in exchange for Russian goods.

WIFE KEPT WHEEL AS CAPTAIN FOUGHT MUTINY ON SHIP

Skipper of Schooner Prefers Charges Against Negro He Shot on High Seas.

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—Capt. George F. Poppe, skipper of the schooner Lillian E. Kerr, came to the Federal Court to-day with charges of mutiny on the high seas against Frank Howell, a negro sailor, and with high praise for the conduct of his wife, Mrs. Eda Poppe, during what he said was his fight for life with Howell.

The woman held the wheel of the vessel while the men fought on the deck, Howell with a knife, her husband with a pistol, the latter said. She kept the schooner on its course, the negro crew meantime grouped on another part of the deck, offering no help.
